

Meeting to discuss their trip to the state convention in Huntington are Beta Club members. Seated are Kay Halstead, Danny Thacker, Nancy Toler, Melinda Cook, Estelene Williamson, Robin Daniels, Carol Justice, Paula Greer, Brenda Stewart, and Beth Pendry. Standing are Bruce Sparks, Terry Tyree, Mike Toler, Mark Boshell, Wayne Basconi, Rhonda Roberts, Sandy Cable, and Martha Hatfield, president. The club is a leadership honorary.

Rocketry club receives award

Members of the Rocketry Club gave a demonstration at Glen Rogers High School and received an award for the club's promotion of rocketry this year. Assisting with the program were Darrell Bailey, David Snider, president; Gary Spence, and Clacey Lambert. Mr. Mike McGraw, science teacher, was sponsor for the club.

Outstanding students in the publications department received Quill and Scroll pins and membership cards at the annual banquet. Sue Cook, Martha Hatfield, Eva Daniels, Brenda Lusk, and Cynthia Bailey are ready to receive their pins.

New Quill and Scroll member Lois Singleton receives the yellow rose of the society at the initiation.

Six become members of Quill and Scroll

Following the annual publications banquet, six students were initiated into Quill and Scroll, international honorary society for high school journalists. The six meeting requirements for membership were Cynthia Bailey, Martha Hatfield, Lois Singleton, Eva Daniels, Sue Cook, and Brenda Lusk. The new members were presented membership pins and cards by old members Mark Boshell and Marcella Williamson.

Banquet guests included all old members of the society, parents of the initiates, and faculty members. Colors of gold and blue were used for decoration and the Quill and Scroll emblem was made by Cynthia Bailey. Each girl was presented a yellow rose.

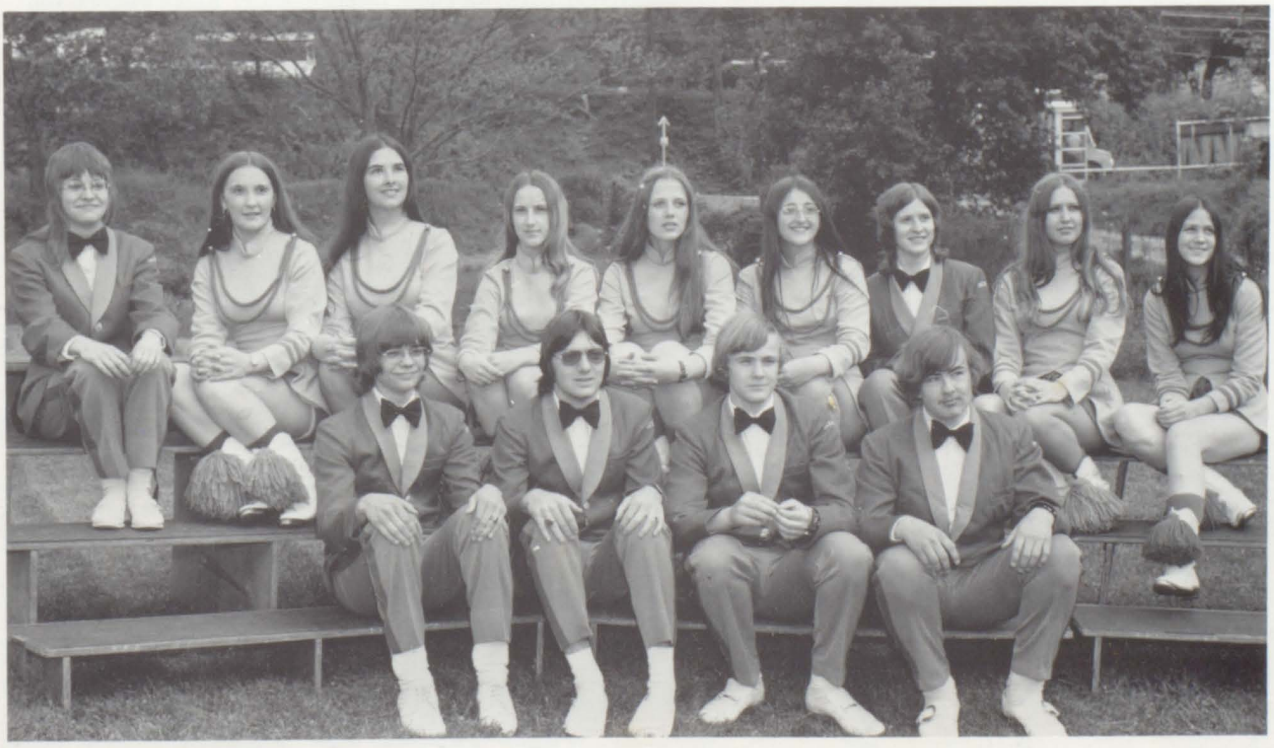

A second member of the family becomes a member of the Quill and Scroll. With new member Brenda Lusk are her sister, Debbie Lusk Cook, who was initiated last year, and her mother, Mrs. Annis Lusk. Brenda worked on advertising and news.

Spanish Honor Society members are Kay Halstead, Carol Justice, Karen Gunter, Billie Bowman, Estelene Williamson, Carmella Bryant Hamm, Sandra Cable, Robin Daniels, Rene Lang, Roger Wright. Standing are Randy Walker, Tommy Gunter, Harold Tracy, Bruce Sparks, Mike Toler, Wayne Basconi, Jimmie Goble, and Mrs. Lilly.

Modern Music Masters assisted with the county music festival. First Row: Ralph Worley, Johnny Basconi, Steve Tracy, Phillip Brooks. Second Row: Jackie McGinnis, Brenda Stewart, Karen Aliff, Brenda Lusk, Wynetta England, Kim Roach, Rose Summers, Cheryl Walker, and Rita Milam. Mr. Tom Goheen sponsors the group.

Bu came to Oceana High from Thailand. Her smile soon broke the language barrier and she became a class favorite. Throughout the year she worked hard to improve her command of English and adjust to many changes.

For Our Time

'An answer for our time'

Diplomas ready, speakers and school officials await arrival of the seniors. On stage are the Rev. Boyd Sparks, Mr. Fred Lokant, Principal Ira Cook, Jr., and the Rev. Robert G. Henson, baccalaureate speaker.

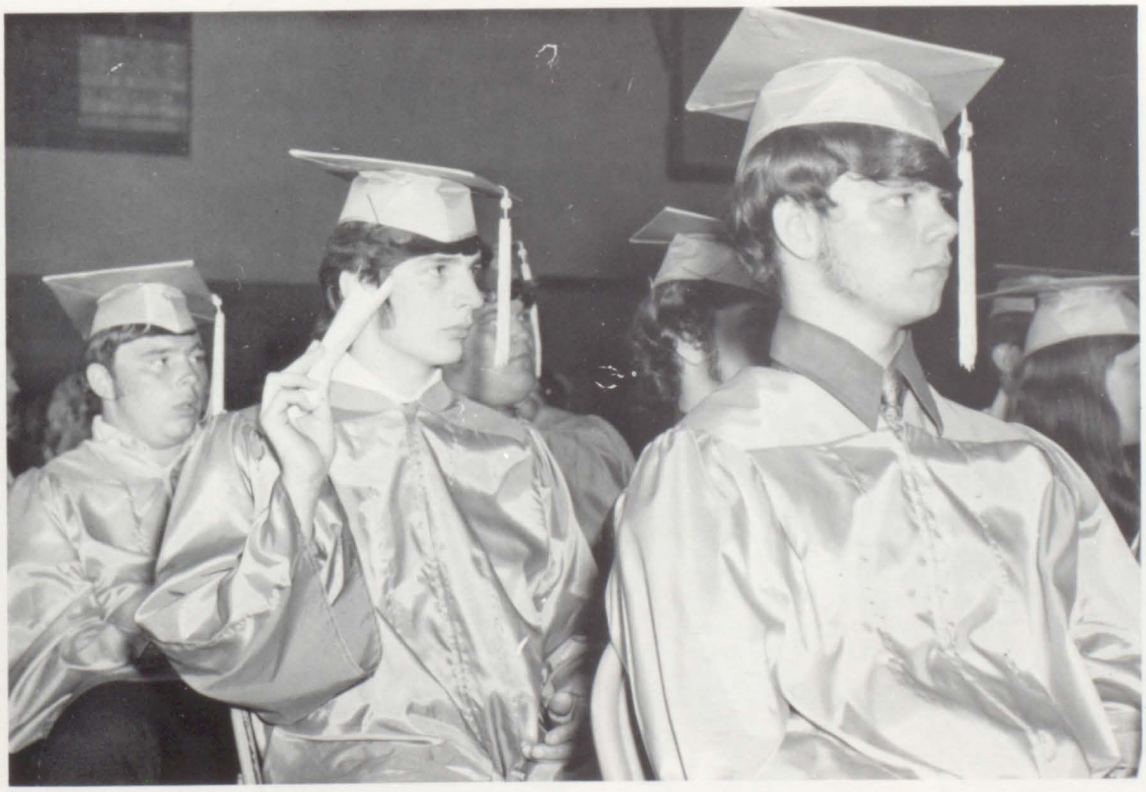

Junior ushers distribute programs to relatives and friends of the seniors. Susan Cook, Millie Lambert, Brenda Lusk, and Beth Pendry prepare to meet the large crowd arriving for graduation.

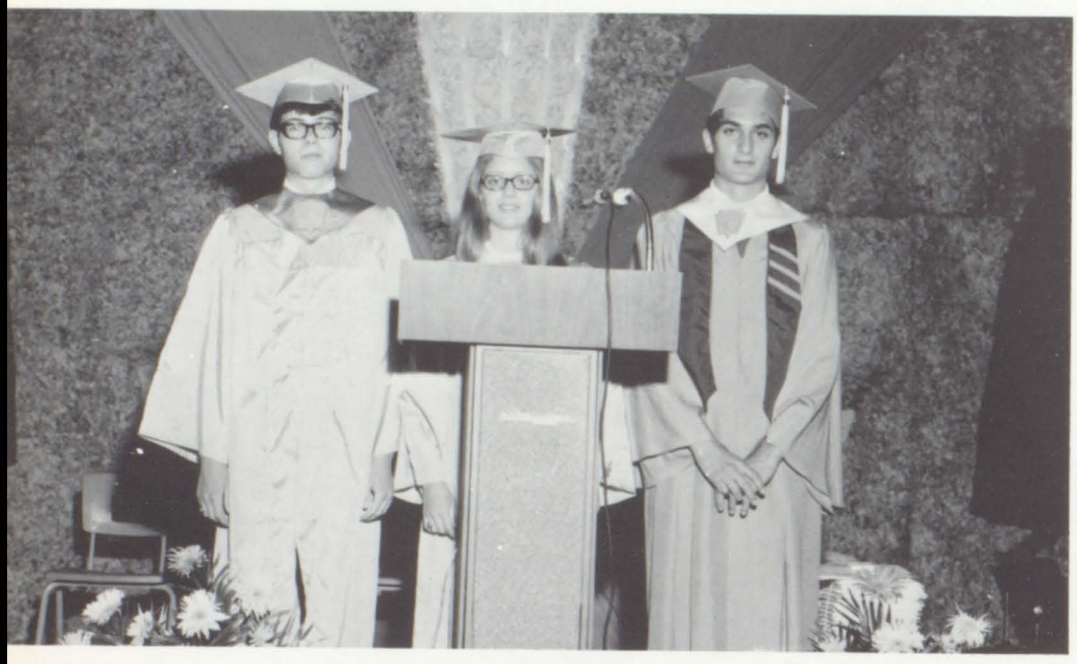

"It's your life, make it count," the Rev. Robert G. Henson tells the graduating class as he delivers the baccalaureate sermon. The speaker is Protestant chaplain at the state penitentiary at Moundsville.

Seniors Cecil Queen, George Boggs, and David Brown concentrate on the advice of the speaker.

Class of '73

Class speakers were Jimmie Goble, honorarian; Cheri Knea, valedictorian; and Wayne Basconi, salutatorian. The three scholastic leaders achieved outstanding records.

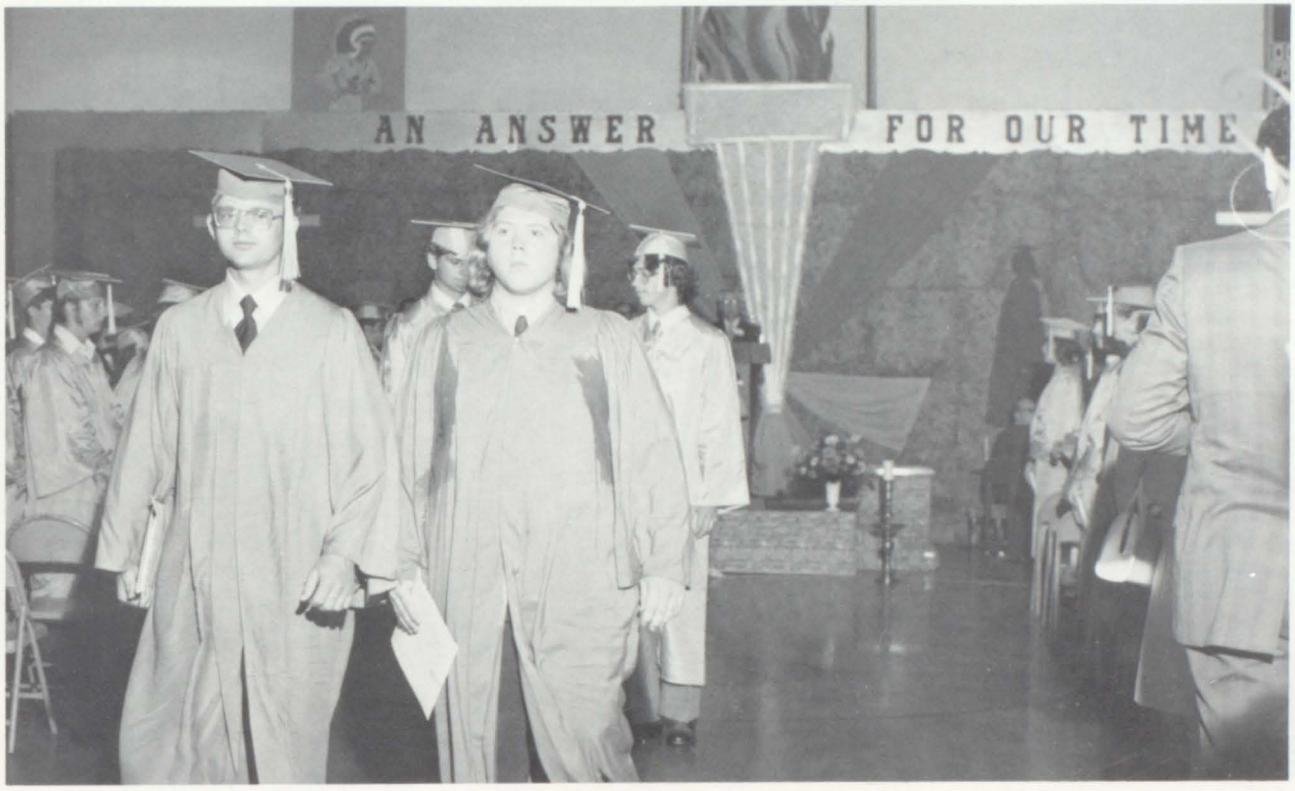

Mark Boshell, senior president, says a final word to his class.

Seniors reach a milestone today and parents are on hand for the long anticipated moment. Twelve years have gone by and a door closes.

Pete Short and Debbie Bailey begin the march.

At last the great moment arrives. Solemn seniors Ricky Pack and E.B. Browning hold fast to their diplomas.

High school ends for Martha Hatfield who receives her diploma along with congratulations from Mr. Fred Lokant, member of the Wyoming County Board of Education.

Mr. Tom Goheen directs the chorus and band in "An Answer for Our Time." Senior members sing with the group.

Another class graduates. Seniors receive their diplomas and are ready for congratulations of family and friends.

Sponsors for the senior class were Mr. Paul R. Blankenship, Mrs. Jeanette Toler, and Mr. Robert Knight.

Following tradition, organist for the program was Mr. Fred Shannon. He is retiring county music supervisor.

Juniors who were ushers and members of the honor guard were Susan Cook, Estelene Williamson, Randy Walker, Tommy Gunter, Beth Pendry, Robin Daniels, Nancy Toler, Sharon Spears, Betty Conley, Wayne Stafford, Melinda Cook, and Teresa Justice.

A class prophecy

Ten years from now, when you pick up this annual, you will have access to at least 15 new electric appliances that don't even exist today!

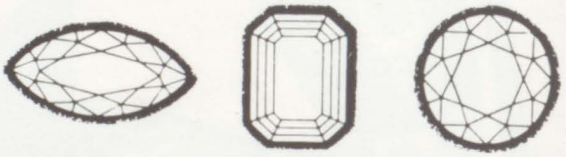

Electrical innovations will "make the scene" (as we say in 1973) to benefit health, education, industry and our social lives. You'll also see in the next decade more electronic equipment to purify, filter, recycle and generally clean up America.

Electricity is doing a lot of things for you now. It's going to do a lot more tomorrow. Our prediction: Life will keep on getting better — electrically.

Editorial staffs of the newspaper and yearbook worked together on both publications, learning newspaper and yearbook techniques. Members were Sandi Dixon, Joetta Daniels, Lois Singleton, Rhonda Womack, Kay Repass, Mary Lou Russell, Danny Thacker, Ruby Toler, Martha Hatfield, Sue Cook, Mavis Miller, and Brenda Lusk.

Publications staff battles deadlines

Cynthia Bailey, who was editor of both the Times and Oceanian, checks all completed yearbook copy.

Journalistic writing class and news staff enjoy Christmas party.

Advertising staff prepares to sell ads for yearbook. Members were Carol Justice, Bruce Sparks, Danny Thacker who was business manager; Tim Gibson, Cecil Queen, Sue Cook, Mary Lou Russell, Rhonda Womack, Peggy Williams, Larry Cook, Kathy Toney, and Phillip Shrewsbury.

Martha Hatfield and Eva Daniels, news editors, check page layouts for the December issue of the newspaper.

Sue Cook works on an ad layout. She led the staff in ad sales.

Doug Chaffins, Patty Canterbury, and Sam Hall wait for the arrival of the first yearbook subscriber.

The 1972-73 school year became a part of Oceana High history as students returned to receive the good or bad news reported on their grade cards. Students and teachers turned their thoughts to summer vacation and a change from school routine.

June 8, 1973

From the editor

"We were hoping you would stay." The day brought the end of an era at Oceana High. Coach Paul Greer, who leaves the school after seventeen years as basketball chief, says goodby to students.

Another year of school has passed quickly, and it has been an unforgettable year for all of us.

There was homecoming with all its festivities. Ball games brought many victories and few defeats to a proud group of students and coaches. We will remember concerts, school movies, the junior-senior prom, and fun around every corner. Mixed with it all was the spirit of youth which made every event exciting.

Students, and teachers as well, have learned and progressed each day. Friendships have endured, weathering many storms, and many will last a lifetime.

Next year will bring changes in faculty, students, and classes for change is a part of progress. Some student will return as seniors and other will enter the school for the first of four years.

We, the staff, have tried to capture a part of the '72-'73 school year. If just a fraction of the spirit and fun has been included within these pages, we have accomplished our purpose.

For all of us, this year has been an unforgettable chapter in the book of youth.

Cynthia Bailey
